I do not know whether I was then a man discerning I was a butterfly or whether I am now a butterfly discerning I am a man. —Henry David Thoreau

I do not know whether I was then
a man discerning I was a butterfly
or whether I am now a butterfly discerning I am a man. —Henry David Thoreau

the aptest moments in the stricken of life rush past us and we see nothing but sense the angels come to visit us and we only know them when they are gone.
—George Eliot

—George Eliot

Just being is not enough and the butterfly can't exist here, sunshine, freedom and a little flower.
—Paul Christian Anderson

May the wings of the butterfly kiss the sun and the open flowers to light on to bring you love, happiness and peace today, tomorrow and beyond.
—Lisa Kelley
