She came into your heart one day,
So beautiful and smart,
A dear and sweet companion,
You loved her from the start.
And though you know the time would come,
When you would have to part,
She'll never be forgotten,
She left paw prints on your heart.

He came into your heart one day,

You loved him from the start.
And though you know the time would come,
When you would have to part,
He'll never be forgotten,
He left paw prints on your heart.

I've loved you for my lifetime, darling,
And this is what I
want to say to you.
I'm not getting ready to let you go, but I know that day will come,
and I'll miss you every day.
I'll miss your paw prints
on my heart, and I'll miss
the way you look at me.
I'll miss the way you
snuggle up to me, and I'll
miss the way you purr.
I'll miss the way you
lick my face, and I'll miss
the way you wag your tail.
I'll miss the way you
sleep, and I'll miss the way you breathe. I'll miss you every day, and I'll love you forever.

When I close my eyes,
I see you,
when I open my eyes,
I miss you.

When I close my eyes, I see you,
when I open my eyes, I miss you.

Your wings
were ready,
but my heart
was not.

Part of my is in Heaven.

I'LL MEET
YOU AT THE BRIDGE.

YOU AT THE BRIDGE.

Some one asked me what the most difficult thing about having a dog was.
I replied,
"the good-bye."
